

Communities in Alberta: Rights and Responsibilities

In Alberta, people live and work together in communities. To make communities fair and safe, everyone has rights and responsibilities. Students investigate rights and responsibilities in Canada (Outcome), learning that citizenship carries duties like respecting others and contributing to the community (Details). As students grow, they discover how informed citizens take action for change through volunteering, collecting donations, and developing empathy for others (Details). This game helps you match important words about being a good citizen with what they mean.

How to play
